

» IBA-Gomel develops software for oil industry.

Our company has recently started a new project with one of transnational oil corporations. It deals with the development of real-time software system for the filling stations network. The project involves our highly-qualified experts with strong background in developing fault-proof real-time systems.