

» IBA sponsors young programmers' contest.

From the first days IBA has been counting on gifted young people and has been doing a lot to educate and promote a new programmers' generation. That's why from year to year IBA is sponsoring various intellectual competitions, seminars and other educational undertakings for talented youth.

This year our company is a general sponsor of the First young programmers' contest. The contest is carried out by Belarusian Association of IT Developers "INFOPARK". It is to be in November – December 2006. The contest completion and winners rewarding is planned on December 10-th, 2006 in Minsk.

For more details go to www.olympic.iba.by.